DANIEL'S ROOFING, INC Becomes a TAMKO MasterCraft Pro Certified Contractor

FEBRUARY 10, 2021

CRESTWOOD, KY – There are no shortage of roofing contractors in the Kentucky, Southern Indiana and Southern Ohio area, A Google map search for "roofing contractors near me" returns a large amount of results. Anybody with a cell phone and an address can show up in Google Maps.

However, getting on the list of TAMKO one of America's top roofing product manufacturers is a little more difficult, but an accomplishment that DANIEL'S ROOFING can now claim.

TAMKO is one of the top asphalt shingle manufacturers in the U.S., They have been making quality roofing products since 1944, and their roofing products are trusted by millions of Americans. To become TAMKO certified, there is a strict application process that TAMKO goes through. This process includes but is not limited to: A thorough background check, which verifies Daniel's Roofing is in fact real; Their number of years in service; Daniel's Roofing has no personal or business bankruptcies and no legal actions or judgments against them. Daniel's Roofing must also show it maintains state and local insurance, as well as license requirements. Lastly Daniel's Roofing Staff must also go through TAMKO specific product training, industry standards testing, and annual re-testing.

"This process is not unusual, it is involved, but well worth it." says Chuck Braun, Managing Partner at Daniel's Roofing.

"There are benefits to hiring a MasterCraft Pro certified contractor. That's why we put ourselves through this process," said Braun. "When you hire a MasterCraft Pro Certified Contractor, you get peace of mind knowing that we know what we're doing and that we are reputable. In addition, our customers have access to three enhanced shingle warranties and optional roof system upgrades because of our new TAMKO MasterCraft Pro Certified Contractor status."

When homeowners research which roofing company to hire, it's good to look at online reviews, but it's also good to visit the roofing product manufacturer's websites, such as TAMKO, to verify that the roofing company that they are considering to hire, is certified.
